When you are old and grey and full of sleep,
And nodding by the fire, take down this book
And slowly read, and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once, and of their shadows deep.

W.B. Yeates

thewell

It is yourself you seek
In a long rage,
Scanning through light and darkness
Mirrors, the page.

Where should reflected be
Those eyes and that thick hair,
That passionate look, that laughter.
You should appear

Within the book, or doubled,
Freed, in the silvered glass;
Into all other bodies
Yourself should pass.

The glass does not dissolve;
Like walls the mirrors stand;
The printed page gives back
Words by another hand.

Keyed to Responsibility

Sacred Heart Girls Win New Authority

Student authority and student responsibility are being regarded as highly interdependent by the students at Newton College of the Sacred Heart.

The student Senate at the liberal arts college for women recently adopted a proposal on student authority and responsibility at a meeting attended by two-thirds of the 800 undergraduates and by several members of the faculty.

The proposal was based on suggestions agreed upon at the National Student Association Conference in Maryland last August. Included are demands for a voice in academic affairs, authority over student organizations, financial independence for student organizations, participation in setting up dormitory regulations and social regulations, and jurisdiction over specific disciplinary matters.

THE COLLEGE'S administration, after discussing the proposals with the Senate, voted to accept them.

Future Senate resolutions will be reviewed and evaluated by the administration. However, the initial agreement provides that in areas of student competence a three-fourths majority vote of the student Senate can override the veto of the administration.

Jane A. Hanify, a senior from Belmont who is president of the Student Government, said "an atmosphere in which students can assume meaningful responsibility, and the authority commensurate with that responsibility, is vital to the development of a mature and effective student government.

"We believe that student power should be interpreted as student responsibility, and can be realized through a rational dialogue between students and administrators," she said.
